

STEAMY SALON PACKAGE!

THREE customers each got a different service from a salon, each from a different stylist.

Each customer owes money to one of the stylists, and each stylist is owed money by just one customer. Stylists don't trust customers who owe them money, and will never service them.

Each stylist previously dated one or more of the customers, except Ana, who is a true professional. Each customer dated just one of the stylists, but some customers dated the same stylist!

All those former relationships have soured or gotten awkward, so no stylist serviced a customer that they once dated!

Carla dated more customers than her colleague Bertie, and is kind of obnoxious about it.

Sabrina once secretly dated Bertie.

Phylicia got a beautiful pedicure with little teeny-tiny rhinoceros horns glued on.

Carlia provided a facial to somebody. Not that kind.

Ana didn't serve Nanci. Honestly, I'm a little surprised Nanci got served at all. She was very rude!

Sabrina owes money to Bertie.
