

SIZZLING SUMMER SOAP!

SIX people are all renting in a three-bedroom beach house for the summer.

Everybody loves a different, unique, number of people in the house (possibly including themselves).

There are two pairs of siblings, both sharing rooms. The 3rd room is shared by non-siblings.

Everybody loves somebody, but Jack only loves himself. In fact, nobody hates themselves (except X-Ray)! They've all read an ancient paperback the owner left in the condo, called I'm OK, You're OK. But X-Ray secretly can't read or write. Shh!

One of the pairs of siblings hate each other and yell an awful lot, which keeps Jack up at night, since he sleeps in the adjoining room. The other pair love each other so much it's kind of disgusting!

There is an unrequited love triangle: Marty secretly loves Lisa, Lisa openly loves X-ray, X-ray secretly loves Marty. Sadly none of that love is returned, otherwise it would be required!

Sam, who does not love their brother Marty, is secretly the father of Jack and loves him dearly, although Jack is clueless about all this. One day he'll find out!

In a shocking twist, Marty learns that Jack, née Jacqueline, is secretly the mother of X-ray, Jack's roommate. Marty loves Jack for this, even though Jack's parenting skills are abysmal.

Everybody loves Gina, except Jack of course (what an ass!)

Jack, despite being a terrible narcissist, is loved by everyone except his roommate, who has had it up to here with Jack's lies and deceit.

DOES SAM LOVE LISA? DOES LISA LOVE SAM?

Tune in tomorrow to find out. Or solve the puzzle and figure it out!
