Social groups are generally in disarray. To protect themselves from other groups, especially the groups just below them, groups will attempt to convey an appearance of interior order and purpose they do not possess.

The capacity of human beings to bore one another seems to be vastly greater than that of any other animals. Some of their most esteemed intellectuals have no other apparent purpose for example, to utter a party of more than two, the epic, poem, and the science of metaphysics.

—H. L. Mencken

INSTRUCTIONS: These hint grids reveal the order in which the squares were solved by my computer. It's not necessarily the same order you would use, but it's probably close. Follow the numbered squares in order 1,2,3... until you find a square you haven't solved yet. This square (or the one or two immediately after it) is a good candidate to solve next.
