Give us, O give us, the man who is cheerful in his work! Be his occupation what it may -- he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent strenuousness. He will do more in his spare time -- he will do it better -- he will persevere longer.
-- Carlyle

The willow which bends to the tempest, often escapes better than the oak which resists it; and so in great calamities, it sometimes happens that light and frivolous spirits recover first of a longer character.

INSTRUCTIONS: These hint grids reveal the order in which the squares were solved by my computer. It's not necessarily the same order you would use, but it's probably close. Follow the numbered squares in order 1,2,3... until you find a square you haven't solved yet. This square (or the one or two immediately after it) is a good candidate to solve next.
